State Tax by order		830 00
other orders to the amount of		6036 63
Balance in Treasurer's hands		42 53
		$7588 16

One order given by Selectmen to Charles Fellows for $3 50 not in Treasurer's hands.

It will be noticed that there is a difference of three dollars and fifty cents between the accounts of the Selectmen and the Treasurer, caused by the nonpresentation for payment of an order for that amount, drawn in favor of Charles Fellows by the Selectmen

There was an over draft of one dollar and ten cents for School Supplies and that amount is now in the hands of Treasurer of School Board as appears by their report, annexed.

There is also fifty cents due the Town over paid for Express.

We find the accounts correct and properly vouched

Report of School Board of Town of Warren, for the year ending March 1, 1891.

All the School-houses in town that have been used the past year, were put in a clean and comfortable condition before commencing the Schools' by S. K. Clark, agent.

The School-house at Warren Summit needs painting badly, and the underpinning needs repairing.

Schools have been maintained the past year as follows;

School No. 1 Clough.

" " 2 Village: Grammar and Primary.

" " 3 East Warren.

" " 7 Warren Summit.

" " 8 Ore Hill.

School No. 1,

One term taught by Kate C. Weeks; this was Miss Weeks' first experience in teaching and her school was decidedly a success; by her good example, order and discipline she had the respect of pupils and parents. The younger pupils made good improvement in reading and spelling, and the older ones bore a good examination in their studies, especially in Arithmetic and Physical Geography.

School No. 2.--Village.

The primary department of Village School, first term was taught by Edith F. Wheet; this was Miss Wheets 7th term in this school and her untiring labor has produced good results.

The second and third terms' taught by Alice V. Pillsbury; the pupils were alert, and in their recitations in Mental Arithmetic, and outline map delineations and black-board exercises were to be highly commended. We found in this school thirty seven pupils at the first term and thirty five at the second term, and the school room inadequate for the proper accomodation of so large a number.

Grammar department, first and second terms taught by Gertrude M. Hibbard. By the introduction of more branches of study it imposed more ardnous labors upon the teacher, but they were faithfully performed. The study of Book Keeping was made a success; the pupils took decided interest in their studies and made good improvement.

Third term taught by Henry E. Hill. Mr. Hill proved an energetic teacher thorough in most of the studies pursued; this school is the most deficient in spelling of any branch of study taught in the Common Schools'.

School No. 3.

First term taught by Alice V. Pillsbury. The attendance was good, the pupils were bright and interested in their studies and a profitable term was the result.

The second term commenced with Florence Thurston teacher. Miss Thurston was obliged to leave her school at the end of two weeks, on account of sickness. The school had a very flattering commencement, the pupils were quite attached to their teacher, and could she have gone through the term we could predict a very profitable school. The term was finished by Miss Mary M. Currier. The attendance was very irregular, and the results werenot up to the anticipation of the School Board.

School No. 7.

Two terms, both taught by Mrs. Mary L. Little. This is the third school in size in town, and for the past year has had quite a number French Canadian pupils; they were apt and made notable progress. It is safe to say that the teacher was faithful, and the school made good progress.

School No. 8.

Two terms, first term taught by Emma E. Clough, second term by Mary A. Currer; both experienced teachers. Great care was taken in their writing books and spelling blanks, and all their work was well done. A profitable school for a small one.

The highest number of names on the Roll of Honor for any one term in the year 20. Names of pupils whose record of attendadce is perfect for the year, Grace A. Currier, Martha L. Cummings, Tavie W. Little, Eugene H. Gould.

Whole number weeks of School in town during the year 132. Whole number pupils in town attending school 148.

Under the "Free Text-book" law all pupils have been furnished text-books' and school materials to their great benefit we hope, and the schools with a slight exception have been in a prosperous condition.
